

PASSIVE VOICE

HOW CAN I DO IT?

First of all, there are 3 basic steps in order to turn active voice into passive.

1. Turn the object into a subject.
2. Send the subject to the end of the sentence and put the preposition “by” next to it. (it reveals who did the action)
3. Make the verb passive, keeping the same tense. To do that, use the verb be in the tense of the active sentence and the past participle of the main verb.

➤ What is a passive tense?

Here is a list of all the action tenses and their transformation to passive ones.

	ACTIVE	PASSIVE
Present Simple	He washes the car.	The car is washed by him.
Present Continuous	He is washing the car.	The car is being washed by him.
Past Simple	He washed the car.	The car was washed by him.
Past Continuous	He was washing the car.	The car was being washed by him.
Present Perfect Simple	He has washed the car.	The car has been washed by him.
Present Perfect Continuous	He has been washing the car.	---
Past Perfect Simple	He had washed the car.	The car had been washed by him.
Past Perfect Continuous	He had been washing the car.	---
Future Simple	He will wash the car.	The car will be washed by him.

Future Continuous	He will be washing the car.	---
Future Perfect Simple	He will have washed the car.	The car will have been washed by him.
Future Perfect Continuous	He will have been washing the car.	---

Other cases

INFINITIVES-MODAL VERBS (PRESENT)

I am going to cook dinner.	Dinner is going to be cooked by me.
I must cook dinner.	Dinner must be cooked by me.
I have to cook dinner.	Dinner has to be cooked by me.
I need to cook dinner.	Dinner needs to be cooked by me.
I should cook dinner.	Dinner should be cooked by me.
I ought to cook dinner.	Dinner ought to be cooked by me.
I can cook dinner.	Dinner can be cooked by me.
I could cook dinner.	Dinner could be cooked by me.

INFINITIVES-MODAL VERBS (PAST)

I would have cooked dinner.	Dinner would have been cooked by me.
I must have cooked dinner.	Dinner must have been cooked by me.
I had to have cooked dinner.	Dinner had to have been cooked by me.
I need to have cooked dinner.	Dinner needs to have been cooked by me.
I should have cooked dinner.	Dinner should have been cooked by me.
I ought to have cooked dinner.	Dinner ought to have been cooked by me.
I could have cooked dinner.	Dinner could have been cooked by me.

A. Turn the active sentences into passive ones.

1. Mother is washing the dishes at the moment.

.....

2. Tom has never allowed his son to go to a club.

.....

3. Jane will have finished her project tomorrow.

.....

4. She was typing a letter when you came.

.....

5. I should order a pizza!

.....

B. Now do the opposite.

1. Italy was visited by Madonna last year.

.....

2. This dish has been created by chef Tom.

.....
3. The parcel must be delivered by Ron immediately!

.....
4. The film is being watched by the whole family.

.....
5. Anne should have been advised by you.
.....