

CAUSATIVE PASSIVE

The causative passive is used when someone asks another person to do something for them. In this structure, we are not doing the action directly; instead, we are having someone else do it. The structure is:

- have/get + object + past participle

Examples:

1. I had my hair cut yesterday.
(I had someone cut my hair yesterday.)
2. We got the car repaired last week.
(We had someone repair the car last week.)

Causative Passive Structure:

1. Subject + have/get + object + past participle
  - I had my house painted.
(I had someone paint my house.)
2. Negative:
  - She didn't get her phone fixed.
(She didn't have someone fix her phone.)
3. Interrogative:
  - Did you have your car washed?
(Did you have someone wash your car?)

Usage:

- This structure is common in situations where we pay or ask someone to do something for us.
- It can be used in both formal and informal contexts.

DIALOGUE

1. Read the dialogue and identify all the passive forms and causative passive forms. Highlight or underline the sentences that demonstrate these structures.

Alex: Hey Jamie, my laptop stopped working yesterday, and I can't figure out what's wrong with it. It won't turn on at all.

Jamie: Oh no! That sounds really frustrating. What are you planning to do about it?

Alex: I think I'm going to take it to the repair shop. I had my computer repaired there last time, and the service was excellent.

Jamie: That's a good idea. Do you remember if they fixed it quickly?

Alex: Yes, they did. The laptop was repaired in just a couple of days. I'll definitely have my laptop checked by the technician.

Jamie: Are you going to ask them to look at the software too? Sometimes issues can be caused by outdated programs.

Alex: Absolutely! I want to make sure everything is working properly. I heard that they can also update the operating system if needed.

Jamie: Perfect! You should definitely get that done. When do you plan to go?

Alex: I was thinking about going this afternoon after class. If they find a problem, I'll have my laptop fixed on the spot.

Jamie: That sounds like a plan! You should also ask if they can provide a warranty for the repairs.

Alex: Good point! I'll ask about that. Last time, they told me that all repairs are covered for three months.

Jamie: That's reassuring. I hope you don't have to spend too much money on it.

Alex: I hope so too. If they need to replace any parts, I'll probably have to get my budget approved first.

Jamie: Well, at least you know you'll have it back in good shape. It's important to have your computer running smoothly for your projects.

Alex: Exactly! I can't afford to have it malfunctioning again. Alright, let's get ready to head out after class!
